COMPAIR OPENS NEW SALES COMPANY IN SERBIA

12 August 2008. Air and gas compressor manufacturer, CompAir, has opened a new sales company in Serbia to serve the growing regional demand for its products and services.

The business, called CompAir South East Europe doo, will operate from brand new, 700 m<sup>2</sup> office and warehouse premises in Belgrade and will manage the sales and service activities of the complete range of CompAir products and systems in 16 surrounding countries.

Commenting on the new operation, Thierry Bouzac, President of CompAir EMEA said, "CompAir is already well established in the region, having operated via a representation office for several years. However, as markets, customers and distributors develop, so do their requirements, hence our decision to set up a new selling company to better and faster serve business and industries in the region.

By opening these new offices, headed up by managing director, Nikolas Luketic, we are now able to offer a dedicated team of area sales managers and service engineers and we have ambitious plans for further expansion."

CompAir South East Europe doo will sell and service the complete range of CompAir compressors, including lubricated and oil-free rotary screw, the energy-efficient Quantima unit, piston, portable, high pressure and rotary vane models into a wide range of applications such as automotive, chemical, food and pharmaceutical manufacture, breathing air and agriculture.
